Lucky Mighty Mites!

Those hard-playing, game-winning Mighty Mites (20-0 over Rustburg Sat, night) are lucky! They have eleven cheerleaders and mascot to keep things going on the sidelines while they do battle on the gridiron. Sponsor and instructor is Mrs. Margie Doss. In the foreground: Lynn Reynolds, Tina Reynolds, (mascot) and Rita Reynolds. Behind them: Kathy Lewis, Gail Doss Beth Carter, Nadine Bugg, Deann Wooten, Susan Godsey, Pam Ford, Pam Guill, and Kay Kay Guill. You can see these fine cheerleaders and the team on Saturday at the new Brookville High School when Mighty-Mites play Richland Hills.

Spout Spring Man Added To Committee

PETERSBURG – A "Pork Producers for Abbitt" Committee, embracing the entire Fourth District, has been formed in support of the candidacy of Representative Watkins M. Abbitt.

The Committee, composed of prominent livestock producers, headed by Richard S. Ellis, IV of Buckingham County, will organize local groups in behalf of Congressman Abbitt and these will work in cooperation with other commodity organizations which have taken a lead in promoting Abbitt's re-election to Congress. Included in the committee is Raymond B. Archer, Spout Spring.

State Senator William V. Rawlings of Capron, Abbitt's Campaign Manager, and himself a pork producer, said: "I am confident the 'Pork Producers For Abbitt' will prove an effective part of the Abbitt Campaign Organization and they will make a substantial contribution toward the re-election of Watt Abbitt".

LOVERS ALL UNTRUE –by Norah Lofts – A Victorian suspense novel by an author well known for her historical fiction. This combines a heartless father, a passionate love affair, murder, and mental collapse, in an intricately plotted tale of terror and romance, full of unexpected twists and surprises.

THE WOMAN AT THE WELL – by Dale Evans Rogers – A call to the good life that can be achieved through faith, written by a woman who was a rebellious teenager, a divorcee and mother at 16. Dale Evans Rogers tells how trust in God turned tragedies into triumphs by relating her life: two unsuccessful marriages, the death of three children, her happy union with Roy Rogers, her discovery of and love for the Lord.

HEIRESS APPARENT – by Laura Conway – A young teacher, Arabel, inherits the estate of Lady Thora, for whom her mother Ursala was housekeeper. The legacy proves to be a not altogether pleasant event, for Arabel soon finds herself attracted to her half-brother, beset by insomnia and sleep – walking and tormented by the knowledge of Ursala's unnatural behavior.

WHEN LOVE RETURNS – by Arlene Hale – A romance with a dash of mystery, this is the story of Jill, jilted three years ago by her fiance, and how she copes with her new status. With a friend she starts a real estate business, and then begins to suspect that her kindly, white-haired Uncle Otis had something to do with the adrupt end to her love affair.

A MATTER OF ACCOUNTABILITY: "The Full Story of the Pueblo Affair" by Trevor Armbrister – A leading journalist here puts together some 300 interviews to produce a revealing account of the Pueblo incident. The personalities interviewed range all the way from Dean Rusk, Nicholas de B. Katzenbach, and Clark Clifford, to ordinary clerks and crewmen. In addition, Armbrister has had extensive discussions with Commander Bucher. The Pueblo Affair will suggest answers to some crucial questions which are both timely and relevant.

Editorial

Editor's note: Mr. James B. Henderson, President of Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation, sends out to each of its employees a monthly newsletter. The President's Monthly Newsletter of October 1970, there was a Special Feature that I feel would be of interest to the readers of the Times-Virginian, and for that reason, I have asked Mr. Vaughan, the Editor, to reprint the following feature as submitted to Mr. Vaughan for his co-operation in this matter.

Mrs. J. Lloyd Hudson

"We read in the papers, we hear on the air,
Of killing and stealing and crime everywhere.
We sigh, and we say as we notice the trend,
What's this young generation -- where will it end?'

But can we be sure it's THEIR fault alone?
Isn't maybe a part of it isn't our own?

For too much money to spend; too much idle time;
For too many movies of passion and crime;
For too many books not fit to be read;
For too much evil in what they hear said;
For too many children encouraged to roam
When too many parents who won't stay at home.

The kids don't make the movies; they don't write the books
Who paint a gay picture of gangsters and crooks.
They don't make the liquor, they don't run the bars,
They don't make the laws, they don't sell the cars.
They don't make the drugs that addle the brain;
It's all done by older folks greedy for gain.

And how many cases we find that it's true
When the label 'delinquent' fits older folks, too."

The Pastor Speaks

PEACE—"FROM WHENCE COMETH IT?"

Isaiah 28:16

Peace is not the absence of disturbance but the presence of assurance in the heart that all is working out for good.

Jesus Christ gives us the greatest display of perfect peace known to man. Reading the fourteenth through the twentieth chapters of John, one becomes immediately conscious of two facts: First, Jesus Christ knew of His impending suffering and death; second, in view of this dismal future He possessed perfect peace. That peace was born out of His perfect knowledge of the Divine, the Beyond, the Future, and the Present. In other words Christ possessed perfect peace because He knew that "all things were working together for good."

Peace springs from knowledge which builds conviction that Romans 8:28 is operating. The result is peace.

The most glorious aspect of the peace of Christ is that He promised to give it to every one who sigh, and we say as we notice the trend, "Why don't all Christians live in conscious reality of His peace?" The lack of knowledge and disobedience robs many saints of this great peace.

Before anyone can qualify to be a recipient of the peace of God, he must receive Christ as Saviour. He is the peace maker between God and man. "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest(peace)."

After receiving Christ, the Christian must "abide" in Christ. Jesus declared "Whosoever keepeth my commandments abideth in me and I in him." John the beloved apostle defined the commandments of Christ as two-fold. John 3:23, 24, "This is the commandment, (1) that you should believe on the name of His Son Jesus Christ," (that is follow after Christ and His teaching), and (2) "and love one another." (That is perfecting the other above yourself.)

Believe in and on Christ and love the brethren as thyself and I will give you "my peace," said Christ.

Christ also declared, "My peace I leave with you." He had reference here to his teachings recorded in the Bible. The more we learn of Christ's teachings, the greater our peace. That knowledge will bring us tranquility in the darkest storm.

Meet A Champ!

David Preston O'Brien, one year old, holds a five pound, four ounce old-fashioned sweet potato grown on his grandfather's farm, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. O'Brien. David Preston's parents are the Kelly O'Briens. The large potato will go to Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Goin, David's great-grandfather, for pies and good eating. The little boy is already walking well . . . no wonder, he started seven months, and he can hold this large potato while standing on his feet. The entire family considers him a "real champ" and that goes for the out-size potato, as well.

Jaycees Seek Traffic Light

WHEREAS, the Appomattox County Jaycees have been and are concerned with traffic safety in the Town and County of Appomattox and recognize the need for the installation of traffic or directional lights at two extremely dangerous intersections in the corporate limits of the Town of Appomattox, to-wit: Court Street at its intersection with U. S. Highway 460, and North Church Street at its intersection with U. S. Highway 460, which traffic lights would serve to eliminate traffic congestion and most importantly, the elimination of foreseeable injuries and/or fatalities which may occur as a result of the absence of traffic or directional lights at the aforesaid intersections;

WHEREAS, on motion duly made, seconded, and unanimously adopted by the Appomattox County Jaycees,

It was RESOLVED that the Town Council of Appomattox request the Resident Engineer of Virginia Department of Highways to undertake a traffic flow survey at the two above intersections between the hours of 12:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. on Fridays, or at 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p. m. on Saturdays for the purpose of determining the need for traffic or directional lights at the aforesaid intersections,

RESOLVED further that a copy of this resolutio be forwarded to the Commissioner of Virginia Department of Highways, Richmond, Virginia, Mr. Pittman, Resident Engineer, Appomattox County, Virginia, Mr. Henry Pack, Mayor of the Town of Appomattox, Virginia, and Mr. C. S. Booth, Town Manager, Appomattox, Virginia.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHY THE BIBLE?

Lesson for October 18, 1970

Background Scripture: Nehemiah 8:1-8; Psalms 119:9-16; Acts 17:10-12; 1 Corinthians 12; 31 through 14:1; 2 Timothy 1 through 2.

Devotional Reading: Psalms 119: 33-48.

Nearly every home has at least one Bible. There is hardly a motel or hotel room without one. Every library has a collection of Bibles in various editions and translations. You will find Bibles in most courts of law and magistrates' offices. They will be found on the bookshelves of doctors and lawyers and they are frequently the resource for journalists and authors.

What is the Bible?

Yet, though the Bible is so universal, there is often great disagreement when Christians attempt to define what it is or delineate is authority. For some people the Bible is simply a good book that contains some worthwhile religious or moral teachings. For others, it is a kind of magical book of sacred puzzles and mysteries for which they alone hold the key.

Some people value it as literature, praising its poetry and narrative, Still others regard it as a book of enlightened fairy-tales and myths that were helpful to less civilized people, but are of no more value to man today. There are those too who regard the Bible as the verbatim transcript of God's pronouncements to men, while to others it is a lawbook of statutes and laws.

While men continue to disagree on the nature and authority of the Bible, it is helpful sometimes to consider what the Bible often says about itself, For example, the writer of 2 Timothy refers to "sacred writing" (3:15). To be "sacred" is to have special relationship to God. These writings of men are "sacred" because of their relationship to God, because he is able to speak to men through them. We regard them with reverence, then, not because in themselves they are an object of reverence, but because they bring us into communion with the One whom we do revere. Christians do not worship a book, but the God to whom the book brings us closer.

Secondly, the writer of 2 Timothy tells us that this scripture ("sacred writings") is inspired by God (3:16). To inspire means to "breathe into." Thus we are saying that God has breathed into these writings his own life-giving spirit. They come alive in people's hearts because he infuses them with his power and life.

Closer to God

The Bible is always intended to serve as a channel through which God is able to speak to us and help us. It is like a window in that regard: its purpose is to allow us to see something beyond it. We do not concentrate on the window, but on what we can see through it, so it is with the Bible: its purpose is to point beyond itself.

The writer of 2 Timothy makes this clear when he lists the various functions of Bible study. It is "profitable for teaching" (3:16). The purpose of this teaching is not so that we will come to "know" the Bible, but rather that we will come to know God in Christ.

Its purpose is also "reproof," says the writer, In other words, the Bible helps us to combat that which is untrue, Whenever the Christian seeks to combat a popular evil, the Bible is always his best resource, It is a yardstick by which we measure both men and the world in which we live, Fidelity's "Topper" savings plan tops them all!

The Topper tops them all. Why? Because it's a great savings plan especially designed for those who want to start with small amounts and build savings at a high interest rate.

With the Topper, no minimum or maximum deposit is required, and you'll earn 5% or 5¼% depending on the maturity date you choose. An extra bonus for the Topper is the convenience of both the passbook and quarterly statement.

The 5% TOPPER: Here is how it works . . . to earn 5%, deposit any amount in a Topper account for 90 days or more. Your daily interest, compounded continuously, earns an effective annual rate of 5.13%. Best of all, you can make additional deposits in any amount at any time, and you don't need your passbook to do it. Your money isn't tied up for a long time either. Any funds that have been on deposit for 90 days or longer may be withdrawn during the first 10 days of a calendar quarter.

THE 5¼% TOPPER: If you select a maturity date of from 2 to 10 years, you'll earn 5¼% compounded continuously for a net annual yield of 5.92%, and you can make additional deposits to earn the same high rate in any amount up to 2 years before maturity.

Interest on both types of Topper is paid quarterly and can be mailed to you, deposited to your checking account or left in your Topper to accumulate. Whichever you choose, Topper offers the highest interest and the greatest flexibility of any bank savings plan allowed by law.

Don't wait. Open your Topper account today at any Fidelity office or send us this coupon with your initial deposit. The Topper. It's the big plan for little people.
